BIOGRAPHY

Hi, my name is Adam Wernecke, I am an artist from Bay City Michigan. I have worked in graphic design since I left the Airforce in 2006, and I have been an artist since I could pick up a pen. I am married and have four children; Gabe, Josh, Martigan, and Pepper-Sue. We currently live in Bay City, though we have lived in San Antonio, Monterey, and Honolulu. I think we have finally settled down, but who knows what the future holds.

I primarily paint with Acrylic on stretched canvases, or on wood backed canvas when I need support for texture. I tend towards the abstract, and collage. I love visually arranging debris, scraps, and images into pleasing compositions. I have also been known to make some fun sci-fi themed work, and dabble a bit in portraiture.

When I am not painting I love to build things, mostly for my house. I also tend to work on Do-it-yourself projects that I find interesting or useful. I love drinking beer, from the very cheap to the very expensive, and will review my findings from time to time.

I hope you enjoy my work.
